

Community Chest Board Names New Committees

Last Two Weeks of October Is Time Selected For Annual Fund Campaign

A joint meeting of the old and new members of the Montevallo Community Chest Board was held Tuesday night for the purpose of organizing and planning the work of conducting the forthcoming community chest solicitation campaign for funds. Those present were R. A. Reid, W. M. Wyatt, Dr. A. W. Vaughan, Mrs. Hood, Miss Waurene Jones, Mrs. Walburn, Mrs. Frost, T. E. Watson, Dr. I. T. Sanders, Dr. Fred B. Pearson, and Glen Elliott.

The following officers were elected for the board to serve during the coming year: Chairman, R. A. Reid; Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Denson Elliott; Secretary, Miss Waurene Jones; Treasurer, R. P. Holcomb. It was determined that the solicitation and subscription campaign for Community Chest funds will be conducted during the last two weeks in October. Mr. R. A. Reid, Mrs. Denson Elliott, and Dr. A. W. Vaughan were named as a committee to direct this campaign.

The following committees were named to serve this year: Welfare, Dr. Sanders, Miss Jones, Mr. Reid; Recreation, Dr. Vaughan, Mrs. Walburn, Glen Elliott; Publicity, Mr. Wyatt, Mrs. Elliott, Mr. Watson. The board will meet next Thursday night, October 5, for further consideration of plans for the campaign.

New Law Means More Money For Town

Mayor Charles T. Acker is gratified that measures increasing the share of municipalities in the state excise taxes on gasoline and automobile tags were passed by the recent session of the legislature.

The increases will range from 10 to 50 per cent, according to population of the towns. In the individual case of Montevallo he says it will mean an increase of about $800 a year in the town's finances. "This makes us feel mighty good," said the Mayor, "because it means that we will have that much extra money to apply toward paying the town's back debts."

It will be about a year before the money will become available to towns under the new state law recently enacted.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Regular Meeting

The American Legion Auxiliary met October 21 at the home of Mrs. A. E. Baumgartner, with Mrs. P. D. Pendleton presiding at the business meeting.

The program opened with prayer, followed by the pledge to the flag and the "Star Spangled Banner." The month of September being "Music Month" for the Auxiliary, and since Constitution Day fell on September 17, Mrs. Baumgartner made a short talk on "What American Citizenship Should Mean to Us Today." Mrs. Helen Clayton played a medley of songs associated with the wars of American history. The music was beautiful, and like all of Mrs. Clayton's music, was enjoyed by everyone.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS

The Bible Study Class of the Methodist Missionary Society will meet Monday, October 2, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. Alex Moore, the beloved teacher. Only those who attend these classes know what the members are missing by not being present.

Everyone is urged to be present and bring her Bible, for an hour spent with this beautiful Christian character is an inspiration never to be forgotten.

Red Cross Worker Is Visitor To Montevallo

Mrs. Beatrice Vines, of Birmingham, field representative of the American National Red Cross, was in Montevallo Monday to confer with Miss Myrtle Brooke, Shelby County chapter chairman, concerning organization of personnel for the annual Red Cross Roll Call.

From here Mrs. Vines went to Columbiana, where she held a conference of the same nature and for the same purpose with chapter officials of the county seat town.

Mrs. Vines stated that the annual Roll Call will be held this year at the usual time, November 11 to 30. She called attention to the state regional conference of Red Cross officials and workers, which will be held October 23 at the Jefferson Davis Hotel in Montgomery. She urges attendance of representatives from Shelby County, adding the reminder that Shelby did not have a representative at the regional conference last year.

Discussions at the conference will include routine matters of organization and promotion, as well as new and current subjects of war relief measures and production activities that may fall within the field of Red Cross service.

This brings afresh to our minds some of the things the Red Cross did on a large scale during World War No. 1, such as knitting socks and sweaters for the men in service.

Shelby County this year had a total of 319 memberships in the Red Cross, a little more than 1 per cent of our population. A further interesting figure on membership for this year was pointed out by Mrs. Vines in the fact that Alabama is off the bottom of the list of states for the first time. We are now third from bottom.

Mr. Henry Davis went to Birmingham Saturday night and came back Sunday on the first regular schedule run of the Goldenrod.

Chest Assembly Authorizes Continuation Of Plan

The 1939 Community Chest Assembly was called to order at 7:30 o'clock in the Baptist Church, September 21, 1939, by Chairman W. M. Wyatt. The roll call showed the following organizations as represented:

Studiosis Club—Miss Ethel Harris, Study Club—Mrs. E. H. Wills, Montevallo City Council — Dr. Hallie Farmer, Business and Professional Women — Mrs. S. M. Mahan, American Legion—P. D. D. Pendleton, Parent-Teacher Association—Mrs. F. H. Frost, Daughters of the American Revolution—Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, Girl Scout Council—Mrs. E. P. Hood, Boy Scout Committee — A. W. Vaughan, County Welfare Program — Mrs. Percy Walburn (Columbiana), U. D. C.—Mrs. F. W. Rogan (absent), Alabama College Social Service Program—Miss Myrtle Brooke, Methodist Church—T. H. Napier, Presbyterian Church—W. J. Kennerly, Baptist Church—R. A. Reid, Montevallo High School — W. F. Tidwell, Montevallo Elementary School—Mrs. Charlotte Peterson, A. A. U. W.—Dr. Lorraine Pier-son, Montevallo Civic Club—Dr. W. D. Jackson, Montevallo Clerks Local 135—Miss Jacqueline Battle.

The report of the Board for the year just closing was then presented by Mrs. Percy Walburn, chairman of the committee that had prepared it on behalf of the Board. Following general favorable discussion of the report, it was moved and unanimously carried that it be accepted and printed for such cir-

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Awareness of God" will be the pastor's theme at the Sunday morning service. The Lord's Supper will be observed at the close of the service. The Sunday evening sermon will be on "The 'Comes' of Christ." Sunday School meets at 9:45 a.m., and the Baptist Training Union at 6:45 p.m.

The regular quarterly meeting of the church for reports and business will be held on Wednesday evening of next week, October 4. All members of the church are requested to be present.

Five Shelby Students Enrolled At Auburn

Auburn, Ala. — Among the 1,045 high school graduates who have entered the freshman class at Auburn this year, there are five from Shelby County.

A 16 per cent increase in total enrollment at Auburn was assured last week when registration passed 3,400.

With about 100 students in Saturday classes yet to be registered and including some 300 additional students for the second semester, total registration for the year is expected to reach 3,800 students. Total 1938-39 enrollment was 3,251.

Following are the Auburn freshmen from Shelby County: Francis Killingsworth, Maurice Swannzy, Henry W. Fancher, Clyde M. Gardner, Montevallo; and Albert Lokey, Wilsonville.

Col. and Mrs. Thomas Jackson Calvert and two children, T. J. Jr. and Catherine, of Tuscaloosa, and Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Calvert's sister, spent Sunday afternoon in Montevallo visiting Dr. and Mrs. J. Alex Moore. Col Calvert is assistant manager of the U. S. Veterans Administration Facility at Tuscaloosa. The Calverts and the Moores were neighbors and intimate friends while the two families were residents of Jasper for many years.

Religious Minorities To Use Union Building

In the new College Union Building projected for Alabama College, the State College for Women, provision has been made for the inclusion of a "Religious Minorities" room where students of the less numerous sects may hold services. Alabama College is among the first state-supported institutions of its type to provide this accommodation for its students.

"The principle behind the 'Religious Minorities' room is our own vigorous restatement that democracy is at work on our campus, and includes religious freedom with the facilities necessary to make that freedom real," said President A. T. Harman at his opening faculty meeting of the year.

Religious groups who have signified their intentions of using the room are the Catholics, Jews, Lutherans, Latter Day Saints, and Universalists. None of these faiths has a church nearer the college than Birmingham, 35 miles away.

Unemployment Checks Received In County

Montgomery, Ala. — Unemployment benefits totaling $4,888.63 were paid to residents of Shelby County in August by the division of unemployment compensation of the Department of Industrial Relations, Judge John D. Petree, director, announced today.

Benefits totaling $431,808 were paid in August in the state, compared with $389,785 in July, an increase of $46,023. This increase was attributed to seasonal unemployment which is always heaviest in August in Alabama. However, total payments were far below the amount paid in August, 1938, when unemployment benefits totaled more than $1,000,000 or more than has been paid in any month since the first benefit check was written February 1, 1938.

Payments in Shelby County were made in 741 checks, with $3,139.64 in 422 checks being paid to persons totally unemployed and $1,748.99 in 319 checks to persons who were partially unemployed.

SHELBY COUNTY STOCK TO BE EXHIBITED AT STATE FAIR

The Shelby County Pig Club and Jersey Calf Club will carry 20 head of registered Jersey calves and bulls and 11 registered Poland-China pigs to the Alabama State Fair on October 2. The boys have worked hard in conditioning these animals so as to make a good showing. On Monday, October 2, three boys, selected from the Jersey Calf Club, will compete with boys from the other counties in a livestock judging contest.

On Tuesday, October 3, the pig club boys and the calf club boys will compete in showing their animals. Both of these affairs should be very interesting to the public, so we invite the Shelby County public to attend these contests and see what Shelby boys are really doing in their livestock projects.

Mr. Kent Is Now A Happier Man

Saw Mr. Kent, the dairyman, Monday morning. He was wearing a big smile of delight at the fine response he has received to his appeal for the return of milk bottles.

He said, "I thank the people of Montevallo for the way they have come to my rescue in returning bottles. I am nearer to a balance on bottles now than I have been in a long time. Tell them to keep up this spirit and I will be a much happier man."

Incidentally, we are reminded by this experience of Mr. Kent to suggest again that it pays to advertise in The Times. If you do not believe it, try it like Mr. Kent did.

Motion to adjourn then prevailed.

Paving Project To Start Monday, October 2

Work Will Begin In Sections Where The Most Money Is Provided

At the regular meeting of the Town Council Monday night attention was given to working out a number of final details preparatory to the immediate beginning of the WPA street paving project in Montevallo.

It was stated by Mayor Acker following the meeting that the first unit of the WPA will move in next Monday, October 2, and will make ready to begin work.

The paving will start first on those sections of the project upon which the most money is provided by deposit and ready for use, he said.

Dr. Acker stated that the citizens committee is composed of Dr. A. W. Vaughan, Mr. J. R. Lewis, and Mrs. M. P. Jeter. It is expected that the coming week will see much friendly rivalry between interested groups in their efforts to get their money ready and thereby to be the first to have the new paving.

"We hope to have at least $4,000 on deposit ready for use in starting the work next Monday," said the Mayor.

Employment

Mayor Acker says many local people have asked about how they may get jobs in connection with the paving work. In this connection he states that the Town has nothing whatever to do with hiring workmen, timekeepers, supervisors, etc., on this project. It is stated that the WPA organization will have charge of all such details. So it is suggested that those who may be interested in working on the job should make efforts to contact the WPA office as soon as it is established here next week.

Mission Study Class To Hold Meetings

The Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will begin its fall mission study course next Wednesday, October 4, at 3 o'clock, at the parsonage. The classes will meet from 3 to 4 o'clock on October 4, 6, 11, and 13.

The book to be studied is "Through Tragedy to Triumph," by Basil Mathews. The instructor for this course is Mrs. I. T. Sanders.

The class is very fortunate in having such an interesting teacher, Mrs. Sanders having lived and taught school for several years in Bulgaria. She and Dr. Sanders have been active in church work, and through their vast store of experience it is with genuine pleasure that the class looks forward to a course filled with interest, information and inspiration.

It is hoped that every member will avail herself of this wonderful opportunity to hear this capable teacher.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS BUSINESS MEETING

The Methodist Missionary Society held its business meeting at the parsonage Monday at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. P. Kelly, president, presided over the meeting.

Mrs. T. H. Napier read the beautiful message of the president as delivered at the district conference in Jasper.

Mrs. J. L. Appleton led the devotional, beginning the program with the song, "Love Divine All Love Excelling." She read the thirteenth chapter of First Corinthians and made an inspiring talk on "Universal Love."

Mrs. O. B. Cooper led in prayer, which was followed by the group singing "More Love to Thee."

Mrs. Kelly conducted the business meeting, after which the group was dismissed by repeating the watchword. The executive committee met at 2:30 to make out quarterly reports, Mrs. W. P. McConaughy presiding.

READY TO GO AGAIN

The Community Chest Assembly held its annual meeting last week, and gave unanimous endorsement to the work that has been accomplished by the Chest Board during the past year. The Assembly further voted for and authorized a continuation of Chest activities along the same lines for another year.

Following the authorization of the Assembly, the people whom it designated to constitute the Chest Board for this year have already held their first meeting, and initiated plans to conduct the Chest drive for solicitation and subscription of funds.

Indications are that the field of opportunity for helpful service of the Chest this year will be greater and more urgent than in the past year, particularly in phases of relief to the needy.

It is indeed praiseworthy that the people of Montevallo are in a mood to continue this very laudable organization of public service.

"Get ready. We will be organized to go ahead again the last two weeks of October," the Chest Board announces.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS' DAY

By proclamation of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, last Sunday was "National Gold Star Mothers' Day," and the Hendrick-Hudson Post and its Auxiliary paid silent homage to our only Gold Star Mother, Mrs. Lula Hendrick.

We say "silent homage," for none felt that it was a day of rejoicing, but instead a day to be spent in quiet reverence for our Gold Star Mother, who, with thousands of others, gave their sons on the battlefield in a war we were told would end all wars.

Our hearts were made sad as we realized that it was the mothers of our nation who were called upon to make such great sacrifices, and our prayers were that in the present conflict, America may not be called upon again to offer her sons on the altar of brutal war, making it necessary to set aside another day for Gold Star Mothers to sit alone with their thoughts of a son whose life was offered in vain.

So again, our Gold Star Mother, we have not forgotten you, but will love and cherish you always.

THE JOB FACING CONGRESS

It was long supposed that the President would call a special session of Congress immediately on the outbreak of an European war, in order to bring about revision of the Neutrality Act. The fact that the President delayed is regarded in informed quarters as being evidence that the shift in Congressional sentiment was not so great as was generally supposed, at least in the early stages of the struggle.

A number of Congressmen who half-heartedly supported the total arms embargo passed by the last Congress, though they were skeptical of its wisdom, have announced that they will now vote for the cash-and-carry plan. But the leaders of the embargo group have not changed their views a whit—if anything, they feel more strongly than ever that America must refuse to sell arms and war materials to any belligerent power, irrespective of where our sympathies lie. Senator Borah has announced that he will fight to the bitter end against any proposal to lift the embargo—he is convinced that "half-way" neutrality would sooner or later lead us to war. There are rumors that certain unnamed Senators have said privately that, if it becomes necessary, they will conduct a filibuster against the cash-and-carry plan and keep Congress inactively in session. In reply to this administration supporters have stated that they may impose cloture and limitation of debate rules which are brought into play only on extraorinary occasions, usually when a filibuster is threatened. However, it might be extremely difficult to invoke these rules in this case—Congressmen of both parties are extremely zealous of their rights to speak as long as they want on any measure, and they know full well that if limitation of debate is used to silence opponents of a measure they favor, it can also be used to silence them on some other occasion.

There is another possibility, which is now being discussed—that Congress might simply repeal the embargo, yet not pass the cash-and-carry plan. That would put us on a basis of international law so far as trade abroad is concerned. American ships could carry arms to the warring powers if they wished. In the view of many, this would make almost inevitable our entry into the war at an early date, due to the fact that German U-boats would certainly sink American ships carrying supplies to Britain when possible.

Whatever course Congress takes, the usual informed view now is that debate is likely to be long and bitter, and that the special session may drag into the regular session before definite legislative action occurs.

Interesting news is also filtering out of Washington concerning other plans which government officials are said to be preparing for presentation to Congress. These plans, according to a recent INS dispatch from the capital, involve extremely high war profits taxes on industries selling supplies to Europe; stringent legislation to prevent food hoarding and profiteering; laws to strengthen the government's powers to combat espionage and sabotage; emergency powers under which the President could intervene directly in case of labor troubles in essential industries. Officials queried say the proposals are still in the tentative stage.

In some quarters where Allied sentiment is at its highest pitch, it has been proposed that Congress repeal the Johnson Act which prohibits nations which have defaulted on debts owed to us (a classification including all of the powers involved in the World War, save little Finland) from obtaining credit here. But, so far at least, the general temper of Congress, to which the war debts are among the sorest of subjects, is overwhelmingly in favor of the Johnson Act exactly as it now stands.

These are some of the highlights of the present situation. Summing up, it is apparent that there is much confusion as to what we should do to maintain our neutrality and to protect our financial structure, and that considerable time must pass before a definite and workable program can be put into action.

SUSAN IS SICK

The Times regrets to learn that our little friend, Susan Sharp, is sick this week. She is suffering with an infection of the leg. Her many friends hope that she may soon get well.

"Our Southern Home" (Livingston) refers to "Congressman Pete Jarman of Tuscaloosa." We thought Pete's home was at Livingston. We know Tuscaloosa would be glad to claim him, but it is too late to start that now. Maybe the Home perceives what many of us agree with—that the only way Tuscaloosa can have a "home-town" Congressman for a long time is to adopt Pete.

FARMERS MUST SIGN FOR ADJUSTMENT PAYMENTS

During the week of September 12, we made a round over the county giving all landlords and tenants an opportunity to sign applications for the subsidy payment on the 1930 allotments. Where these applications were properly signed, they were forwarded to the state office and checks are now being received.

No payments can be made to a farm until the producer and all tenants have signed the application properly. There are approximately 450 applications in the county agent's office to be signed, and I want to urge you to come in and sign so you can get your money—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Governor Proclaims Forest Fire Prevention Week

October 23-28 Fixed as Dates To Study Prevention of Destructive Woodland Blazes

Montgomery, Ala.—Calling upon Alabama citizens to unite in an effort to prevent a recurrence of disastrous forest fires that last year destroyed over two million acres of Alabama woodlands and cost property owners $2,016,489, Governor Frank M. Dixon this week issued a proclamation setting aside the week of October 23-28 as Forest Fire Prevention Week.

Landowners, lumber industries, garden clubs and other conservation organizations are expected to observe the occasion by educational programs, speeches, demonstrations and instruction.

The Governor's proclamation pointed out that approximately two-thirds of the total area of Alabama is woodlands, and that the proper development and conservative use of this vast area is directly coordinated with the prosperity of the state. Of the $3,060 forest fires in 1938, practically all were man caused.

A study of the problems attending forest protection is in order, the Governor said in his proclamation, to direct attention for responsibility of this great annual forest loss, the last paragraph of the proclamation stated:

"I, Frank M. Dixon, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby designate and set apart the week beginning October 23 and ending October 28, 1939, as Forest Fire Prevention Week and recommend to all the people of the state that either individually or in groups they observe the week by appropriate exercises or special programs for the purpose of emphasizing the importance of forest fire prevention and protection to the economy of the state."

Upon application the Alabama Department of Conservation will furnish free mimeographed leaflets about Alabama forests, fire prevention, and a copy of Governor Dixon's proclamation.

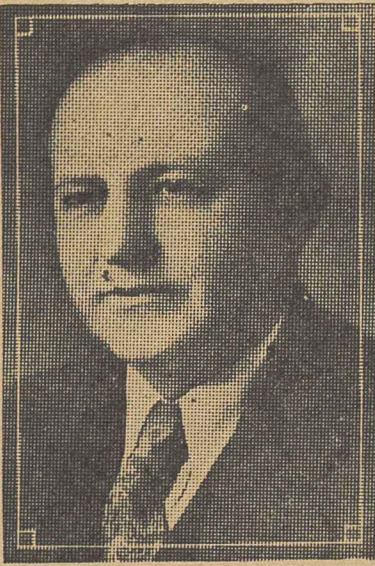

County Agent Gives Pasture Suggestions

1. Select a moist piece of land which is free or nearly free of carpet and Bermuda grass. (Either crop land or a newly cleared bottom.)
2. Between now and October 15 broadcast over it a ton of ground limestone and 600 pounds of superphosphate and from 1 to 1½ bushels of red rust-proof oats.
3. Disc or plow in this fertilizer and oats.
4. As soon as this bed has been settled by rain, broadcast 10 pounds of crimson clover and 3 pounds of white Dutch clover. (These seeds must be inoculated.)
5. Turn on sufficient stock to keep fairly well grazed as soon as oats will graze without pulling up.
6. In February, broadcast 10 pounds of common lespedeza and 10 pounds of Dallis grass per acre.—A. A. Lauderdale, County Agent.

Buckles To Serve Press Association And U. of A.

University, Ala.—Employment of Doyle L. Buckles, nationally-known weekly newspaper editor, to serve both the Alabama Press Association and the University of Alabama was announced today by M. C. Giles, Sheffield, president of the press association, and Dr. Richard C. Foster, president of the University.

Mr. Buckles will act as field manager of the association, in which his services are at the disposal of the weekly press of the state. His duties will include sending confidential information to the weekly editors, attempting to aid them in improving revenue from advertising, circulation and job printing, developing new fields of advertising, assisting in improving editorial content of the papers, etc.

As a member of the staff of the University, to which he is to give half his time, Mr. Buckles will be attached to the extension division and the journalism department. He is assigned to the University news bureau, and although he will not teach any courses this term, he may be called upon to give a class or two later.

CLUB MEMBERS TO HAVE CAMP AT FAIR

Auburn, Ala.—Many hundreds of Alabama 4-H Club boys and girls are expected to be present at the Alabama State Fair in Birmingham on October 4, which is Governor's and also Alabama Day. Excursion rates will be in effect and many school groups will attend the fair on that date.

T. A. Sims said plans were already completed for a 4-H Club encampment during the entire five days of the fair. While no definite number of boys are scheduled to be present, Sims said there are numerous applications for the camp.

Club boys are to be in camp just opposite a Boy Scout encampment, Mr. Sims said, adding that it would be one of the first times that Scouts, most of them city and town youths, would be camped with rural boys who make up the 4-H Club.

"It will be Alabama youth on parade in keeping with the theme of Alabama on Parade, featured by the fair this year," according to Sims.

Price Adjustment Blanks On Cotton Received By Agent

County Agent A. A. Lauderdale this week announced receipt of blank forms on which Shelby County farmers participating in the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program are applying for price adjustment payments on this year's crop.

The county agent said payments to the farmers will be made just as fast as the applications can be audited and properly approved. The payments for the entire state will amount to $18,955,676.

The price adjustment payment rate on cotton has been fixed at 1.6 cents for each pound of the established normal yield on each acre of the 1939 cotton acreage allotment.

Mr. Lauderdale pointed out that the price adjustment payment, which is known as a "parity" or "subsidy" payment, will be made to cotton farmers whose acreage planted to cotton this year does not exceed the 1939 cotton acreage allotment.

For example, he explained, on a farm with a cotton allotment of 20 acres and a normal yield of 200 pounds of lint per acre, the price adjustment payment would apply to 20 by 200 pounds, or 4,000 pounds. At the rate of 1.6 cents per pound, this would give the farm a cotton price adjustment of $64.

The regular conservation payment on cotton, which will be made at a later date, will be computed at the rate of 2 cents per pound on the normal yield of the cotton acreage allotted the farm, provided the allotment is not overplanted. If the allotment has been knowingly overplanted, no conservation payment will be made, or if the allotment is exceeded at all—knowingly or otherwise—no price adjustment will be made.

The United States Marine Band in Two Concerts Here Next Monday

Marine Band Leader III; Santelmann Will Lead Concert Here

Due to the illness of Captain Taylor Branson, leader of the United States Marine Band, this famous military musical group will be under the direction of W. F. Santelmann, second leader, when it plays in two concerts at Alabama College next Monday, October 2.

William F. Santelmann, second leader, is the son of W. H. Santelmann, who for more than 30 years was the noted conductor of the band, the immediate successor to the late John Phillip Sousa in this important position.

Conductor Santelmann studied violin under his father, graduated from the Washington College of Music, and took advance courses at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston. He joined the Marine Band in 1923, four years before his father's retirement. Santelmann was promoted to second leader on December 1, 1935. In this capacity he has led the band on many important engagements, including affairs at the White House, the Gridiron Club dinner, and similarly important events.

He was in charge of the Marine Band during its participation in the ceremonies attendant upon the recent visit of the King and Queen of England to Washington. On that occasion Their Majesties congratulated him on the fine way in which the band played the British national anthem, "God Save the King."

Captain Branson is confined to the United States Naval Hospital and is unable to make the Southern tour.
